He woke me up this morning,
That's what He's done for me.

PRECIOUS LORD

Verse I

Precious Lord, take my hand,
Lead me on, help me stand;
I am tired, I am weak, I am worn;
Through the storm, through the night,
Lead me on to the light,
Take my hand, precious Lord, lead me home.

Verse II

When my way grows drear,
Precious Lord, linger near;
When my life is almost gone,
Hear my cry, hear my call,
Hold my hand lest I fall;
Take my hand, precious Lord, lead me home.

Verse III

When the darkness appears
And the night draws near,
And the day is past and gone;
At the river I stand,
Guide my feet, hold my hand;
Take my hand, precious Lord, lead me home.

Verse IV

Precious Lord, I love Your name,
When I look back from whence I came;
Sometimes stumbling, sometimes falling,
Sometimes alone.
Friends and loved ones I love so dear,
Many are gone but still I'm here;
Take my hand, precious Lord,
And lead me on.

UNISON SCRIPTURE

7:30 a.m.

MARK 5:35 – 42 (NIV)

³⁵While Jesus was still speaking, some men came from the house of Jairus, the synagogue ruler. “Your daughter is dead,” they said. “Why bother the teacher any more?” ³⁶Ignoring what they said, Jesus told the synagogue ruler, “Don’t be afraid; just believe.” ³⁷He did not let anyone follow him except Peter, James and John the brother of James. ³⁸When they came to the home of the synagogue ruler, Jesus saw a commotion, with people crying and wailing loudly. ³⁹He went in and said to them, “Why all this commotion and wailing? The child is not dead but asleep.”

⁴⁰But they laughed at him. After he put them all out, he took the child’s father and mother and the disciples who were with him, and went in where the child was. ⁴¹He took her by the hand and said to her, “Talitha koum!” (which means, “Little girl, I say to you, get up!”). ⁴²Immediately the girl stood up and walked around (she was twelve years old). At this they were completely astonished.

11:00 a.m.

MATTHEW 26:36 – 46 (NRSV)

³⁶Then Jesus went with them to a place called Gethsemane; and he said to his disciples, “Sit here while I go over there and pray.” ³⁷He took with him Peter and the two sons of Zebedee, and began to be grieved and agitated. ³⁸Then he said to them, “I am deeply grieved, even to death; remain here, and stay awake with me.”

³⁹And going a little farther, he threw himself on the ground and prayed, “My Father, if it is possible, let this cup pass from me; yet not what I want but what you want.” ⁴⁰Then he came to the disciples and found them sleeping; and he said to Peter, “So, could you not stay awake with me one hour? ⁴¹Stay awake and pray that you may not come into the time of trial; the spirit indeed is willing, but the flesh is weak.”

⁴²Again he went away for the second time and prayed, “My Father, if this cannot pass unless I drink it, your will be done.” ⁴³Again he came and found them sleeping, for their eyes were heavy. ⁴⁴So leaving them again, he went away and prayed for the third time, saying the same words. ⁴⁵Then he came to the disciples and said to them, “Are you still sleeping and taking your rest? See, the hour is at hand, and the Son of Man is betrayed into the hands of sinners. ⁴⁶Get up, let us be going. See, my betrayer is at hand.”

UNISON SCRIPTURE

6:00 p.m.

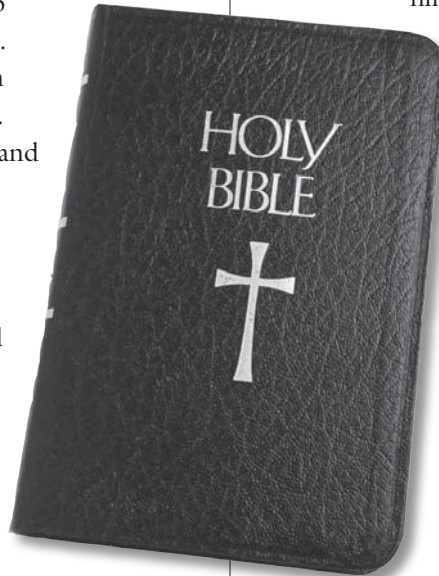

ACTS 27:41-44 (NIV)

⁴¹But the ship struck a sandbar and ran aground. The bow stuck fast and would not move, and the stern was broken to pieces by the pounding of the surf. ⁴²The soldiers planned to kill the prisoners to prevent any of them from swimming away and escaping. ⁴³But the centurion wanted to spare Paul's life and kept them from carrying out their plan. He ordered those who could swim to jump overboard first and get to land. ⁴⁴The rest were to get there on planks or on pieces of the ship. In this way everyone reached land in safety.

ACTS 28:1-6 (NRSV)

¹After we had reached safety, we then learned that the island was called Malta. ²The natives showed us unusual kindness. Since it had begun to rain and was cold, they kindled a fire and welcomed all of us around it. ³Paul had gathered a bundle of brushwood and was putting it on the fire, when a viper, driven out by the heat, fastened itself on his hand. ⁴When the natives saw the creature hanging from his hand, they said to one another, "This man must be a murderer; though he has escaped from the sea, justice has not allowed him to live." ⁵He, however, shook off the creature into the fire and suffered no harm. ⁶They were expecting him to swell up or drop dead, but after they had waited a long time and saw that nothing unusual had happened to him, they changed their minds and began to say that he was a god.

GETTING RELIGION WRONG

by Martin E. Marty

In 1970, as remembered in a story I've (too?) often told, for my sins I became associate dean at a Divinity School. Dean Joseph Kitagawa, scholar supreme and human being to match, did not like to raise money — so he equipped me with a tin cup.

As I headed out on the trail, I posed this question to a colleague: "Given all the world's problems, on what grounds dare I ask for money to fund the graduate study of religion?" Answer: "On the same grounds as those for undertaking college-level sex education. Sex, if you get it wrong, is very dangerous. So is religion."

Read the book and the responses and you might conclude that USA Today is guilty of grade inflation — and this in a nation that banners its religiosity around the world, puzzles post-Christian Europe, and invokes deity as benedictor, mentor, and justifier-of-deeds.

Let Prothero document citizen shortcomings, as he well does, then ponder the sources of the ignorance and — gloom permitted here — expect little reform. The fault is not just that of "secular humanists" or "liberals," many of whom are actually and actively in the camp of those who think that teaching "about" religion ought to be in curricula. Fault often lies with religious folk who

FAULT OFTEN LIES WITH RELIGIOUS FOLK WHO AGITATE FOR THE TEACHING "OF" RELIGION — THEIR RELIGION— AS NORMATIVE AND EXEMPLARY.

The United States, in foreign affairs, has mainly been "getting it wrong," and its citizens often "get it wrong" in human affairs. "Wrong?" Blame malice, exploitation, apathy, or ignorance. Stephen Prothero's justifiably well-reviewed new book, Religious Literacy: What Every American Needs to Know — and Doesn't, documents what everyone who is literate has to know: that, as the USA Today front page story on the book shouts along with the Boston University author, "Americans get an 'F' in religion."

agitate for the teaching "of" religion — their religion — as normative and exemplary.

Fault also lies with some tone-deaf academics, including Harvard faculty who ruled up and then ruled down religion requirements in the curriculum. And you can further fault the Rip Van Winkles who have been napping all these years since religion came to be central in world affairs.

Since Prothero makes his living teaching and writing in this field (as did I) his book could sound like special pleading for a discipline in higher education, though “lower education” is often the real front line. Responsible academics in religion know that they have shortcomings in getting points across, too. They know, as Prothero does, that minds storing facts about religions — one’s own and that of others — do not produce sainthood or heroism.

In the practice of faiths, according to the best teachers and guides among them, it is not always “what you know” but “Who you know.” But, taking off from Prothero, it is wise to ask not merely how many things one needs to know about Sikhism or Zoroastrianism — or Islam and Christianity, for that matter.

Get religion wrong? It remains true that “getting it wrong,” as is our tendency, hurts religion and endangers world societies. Getting it right would not mean saving souls or making sad hearts glad, but it would enhance academic and civil life.

What is needed is awareness of and knowledge about what goes on in the mentalities and policies that favor or disfavor religion, so that we may learn to discern, and to gain at least basic understanding about where to seek and what we might possibly find, if we want to move beyond religious illiteracy.

LETTER TO THE NEW YORK TIMES

March 11, 2007

Jodi Kantor

The New York Times

229 West 43rd Street

New York, New York 10036-3959

Dear Jodi:

Thank you for engaging in one of the biggest misrepresentations of the truth I have ever seen in sixty-five years.

You sat and shared with me for two hours. You told me you were doing a “Spiritual Biography” of Senator Barack Obama. For two hours, I shared with you how I thought he was

I told you what a dreamer he was. I told you how idealistic he was. We talked about how refreshing it would be for someone who knew about Islam to be in the Oval Office. Your own question to me was, Didn't I think it would be incredible to have somebody in the Oval Office who not only knew about Muslims, but had living and breathing Muslims in his own family?

I told you how important it would be to have a man who not only knew the difference between Shiites and Sunnis prior to 9/11/01 in the Oval Office, but also how important it would be to have a man who knew what Sufism was; a man who understood that there were different branches of Judaism; a man who knew the most principled individual in public service that I have ever met. For two hours, I talked with you about how idealistic he was.

For two hours I shared with you what a genuine human being he was. I told you how incredible he was as a man who was an African American in public service, and as a man who refused to announce his candidacy for President until Carol Moseley Braun indicated one way or the other whether or not she was going to run.

the difference between Hasidic Jews, Orthodox Jews, Conservative Jews and Reformed Jews; and a man who was a devout Christian, but who did not prejudge others because they believed something other than what he believed.

I talked about how rare it was to meet a man whose Christianity was not just “in word only.” I talked about Barack being a person who lived his faith and did not argue his faith. I talked about Barack as a person who did not draw doctrinal lines in the sand nor consign other people to hell if they did not believe what he believed.

Out of a two-hour conversation with you about Barack's spiritual journey and my protesting to you that I had not shaped him nor formed him, that I had not mentored him or made him the man he was, even though I would love to take that credit, you did not print any of that.

You and your editor proceeded to present to the general public a snippet, a printed "sound bite" and a titillating and tantalizing article about his disinviting me to the Invocation on the day of his announcing his candidacy.

I have never been exposed to that kind of duplicitous behavior before, and I want to write you publicly to let you know that I do not approve of it and will not be party to any further

"OUT OF A TWO-HOUR CONVERSATION WITH YOU ABOUT BARACK'S SPIRITUAL JOURNEY AND MY PROTESTING TO YOU THAT I HADNOT SHAPED NOR FORMED HIM, THAT I HAD NOT MENTORED HIM OR MADE HIM THE MAN HE WAS...YOU DID NOT PRINT ANY OF THAT."

When I told you, using one of your own Jewish stories from the Hebrew Bible as to how God asked Moses, "What is that in your hand?," that Barack was like that when I met him. Barack had it "in his hand." Barack had in his grasp a uniqueness in terms of his spiritual development that one is hard put to find in the 21st century, and you did not print that.

As I was just starting to say a moment ago, Jodi, out of two hours of conversation I spent approximately five to seven minutes on Barack's taking advice from one of his trusted campaign people and deeming it unwise to make me the media spotlight on the day of his announcing his candidacy for the Presidency and what do you print?

smearing of the name, the reputation, the integrity or the character of perhaps this nation's first (and maybe even only) honest candidate offering himself for public service as the person to occupy the Oval Office.

Your editor is a sensationalist. For you to even mention that makes me doubt your credibility, and I am looking forward to see how you are going to butcher what else I had to say concerning Senator Obama's "Spiritual Biography."

Our Conference Minister, the Reverend Jane Fisler Hoffman, a white woman who belongs to a Black church that Hannity of "Hannity and Colmes" is trying to trash, set the record straight for you in terms of who I am and in terms of who we are as the church to which Barack has belonged for over twenty years.

The president of our denomination, the Reverend John Thomas, has offered to try to help you clarify in your confused head what Trinity Church is — even though you spent the entire weekend with us setting me up to interview me for what turned out to be a smear of the Senator; and yet The New York Times continues to roll on making the truth what it wants to be the truth.

I do not remember reading in your article that Barack had apologized for listening to that bad information and bad advice. Did I miss it? Or did your editor cut it out? Either way, you do not have to worry about hearing anything else from me for you to edit or “spin” because you are more interested in journalism than in truth.

Forgive me for having a momentary lapse. I forgot that The New York Times was leading the bandwagon in trumpeting why it is we should have gone into an illegal war.

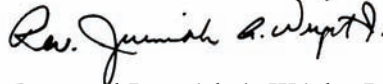

The New York Times became George Bush and the Republican Party’s national “blog.” The New York Times played a role in the outing of Valerie Plame. I do not know why I thought The New York Times had actually repented and was going to exhibit a different kind of behavior.

Maybe it was my faith in the Jewish Holy Day of Roshashana. Maybe it was my being caught up in the euphoria of the Season of Lent;

but whatever it is or was, I was sadly mistaken.

There is no repentance on the part of The New York Times. There is no integrity when it comes to The Times. You should do well with that paper, Jodi. You looked me straight in my face and told me a lie!

Sincerely and respectfully yours,

STEWARDSHIP

THE RESULTS OF A REDEEMED LIFE

TREASURE...HEART

A big city church in the East was having its Sunday morning service. Many hundreds were crowded into the stately sanctuary on this wintry, blustery day, evidenced by heavy coats and boots everywhere.

The young pastor called the pulpit area in preparation for the offering. As hundreds sat with bowed heads and the choir completed a short offertory, it was suddenly very quiet. The handsome young pastor paused dramatically and prayed: "For where your treasure is, there will your heart be also. Amen."

As the majority reached for their envelopes with some digging through heavy clothing in rapid search, a few had given no previous consideration to the offering until that moment. In a rear row, a middle-aged man in a gray business suit found himself in a quickly developing dilemma. A fast check of his wallet revealed a five-dollar bill and a fifty-dollar bill. For many, this would pose no problem, as the old five-dollar bill philosophy has been with many church-goers for years...too many years. Our well-dressed man, however, was not your average dollar-donor. His training and his religious heritage had developed more along the lines of $20, though he had long felt he should return more, as God had indeed prospered him. But, $50? He heard the ushers working their way back as he again hastily viewed the two bills in his wallet. Which one?, his heart was saying, Which one?, as his mind was closing on the five-dollar bill as a practical decision.

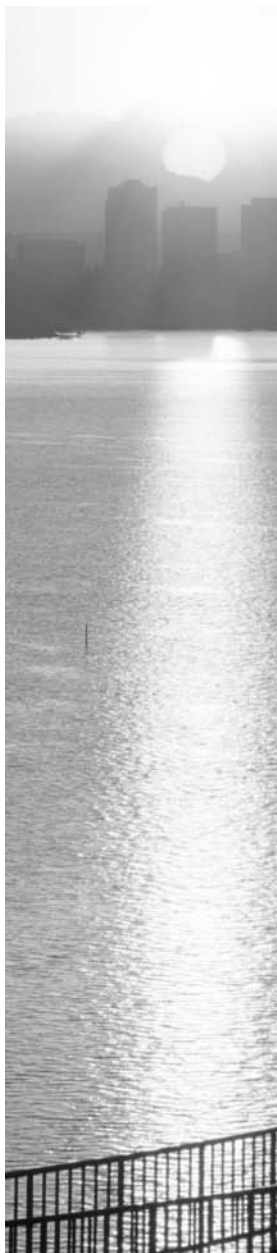

The young pastor's words resounded in his mind...treasure, heart...treasure, heart...treasure, heart. As the usher now had reached his row, out of somewhere, perhaps from beyond, he sensed his hand on the fifty, as his heart tripped more heavily. There, now it was done!

FOURTH SUNDAY IN LENT

WHEN GOD ENTERS OUR PICTURE FALLING AND RECOVERING

Help! I've fallen and I can't get up." These words bring to mind a picture of an elderly person who has tripped or stumbled at home and is unable to reach a phone. A feeling of helplessness leads to a cry for assistance. What a relief it is if someone hears the call and responds!

There are many times, though, when people have fallen or need help in less dramatic ways, and they do not cry out. They feel that they should be able to handle the problem themselves or that no help is available. Sometimes we do not realize the nature of our need nor its extent.

John the Baptist spoke to such people. The residents of Judea lived in a time of hardship, ground under the heel of the abusive Roman Empire. John, though, reminded them that part of the despair was of their own making, a lack of faithfulness in living up to ideals that their own faith and tradition held up before them. They had lost faith, hope and love — all three — and were living empty and sinful lives. He called them to repent, to acknowledge their "fallen-ness," and to find the new hope that God can give even in adversity. God hears our cries and, if we change our ways, will help us to get up again.

The Lenten emphasis on repentance is not a scolding or finding fault. It is, rather, a call to realize our need and to reach out and up for the help that is available. God did not create us to live in the proverbial "vale of tears." Jesus promised us abundant life. All of us fall at times, and we need God's help to recover. Make Lent a time to cry out and then to listen for God's answer. God does respond.

Rev. Reginald Williams, Jr.

WELL-KEPT SECRETS

M. Linda Jaramillo

Each year in August, we acknowledge with regret the devastating impact of the atomic bombs that were dropped on the cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki. We know that thousands of lives were lost or changed forever. Generations of Japanese citizens have experienced the aftermath of the chemicals that entered people's bodies and affected their health and environment for the rest of their lives. Most of us know about this.

This year marks the 53rd anniversary of the Bravo H-bomb test, conducted on March 1, 1954, on Bikini Atoll. Sixty-seven nuclear tests were carried out in the Marshall Islands from June 30, 1946 to August 18, 1958. These were not bombs to end a war, the justification for the devastation in Hiroshima and Nagasaki. In the Marshall Islands, this was bomb testing! The bombs were intentionally dropped on the Marshall Islands by the U.S. Military. How many of us knew about this? If we did not know before, it is time that we know now.

The H-bombs tested were 1,000 times more powerful than the Hiroshima atomic bomb. Dr. Neal Palafox of the University of Hawaii says that the radiation for this testing equaled

TO DO JUSTICE

7,000 atomic bombs. The New York Times reported on April 30, 2001, “America’s debt to this Country has its roots in the 66 nuclear tests conducted in the Marshall Islands. Their total yield was 128,000 kilotons, roughly the equivalent of 10 Hiroshima-sized weapons per week throughout the testing period (twelve years).” How many of us paid attention to that story?

The lives of thousands of residents of the Marshall Islands were changed forever. Survivors continue to suffer from the effects of radiation. Many of the survivors of the bomb testing have now passed away. Perhaps, the magnitude of the H-bomb testing was not known during those first tests in 1946. How could we not have known? We already knew the affects of the atomic disaster in Hiroshima and Nagasaki the year before.

Granted, the United States admitted its wrong doing and signed a Compact with the citizens of the Marshall Islands in 1986 agreeing to compensate the citizens for injuries and damages. As of August 2000, some actual awards had been made for personal injuries. However, 712 of the awardees (42%) died without receiving their full compensation. The long-term health impact on the Marshallese people is still being discovered. Those who were down wind of the tests continue to suffer serious health consequences. The waters and lands are poisoned and the food supplies remain contaminated. Today, little attention is being given to this atrocity. Did you know?

Because of the resulting illnesses and environmental crisis, the Government of the Republic of the Marshall Islands submitted a Changed Circumstances Petition to the U.S. Congress on September 11, 2000. They are still waiting for a response almost seven years later. In fact, the Petition has not moved at all. How many of us know this?

It is time to tell everyone we know about this well kept secret. It is time for Congress to quit ignoring the appeals for help from survivors of the H-bomb testing. It is time to challenge Congress to respond to the Changed Circumstances Petition submitted by the Government of the Marshall Islands. Contact your Congressperson. Tell him or her that you know about this and they need to do something about it — now.

“There are different ways of serving, but the same Lord is served.”

1 Corinthians 12:5 (TEV)

A God of Restoration

My heartfelt hope for the congregation in the year 2007 is that each member will fully embrace what it means to be loved by a God who restores. God is a God of redemption and not a God of condemnation.

Isaiah 40 (NIV)

January

Isaiah 40:1-2 Comfort, comfort my people, says your God. ²Speak tenderly to Jerusalem, and proclaim to her that her hard service has been completed, that her sin has been paid for, that she has received from the LORD's hand double for all her sins.

February

Isaiah 40:4-5 ⁴“Every valley shall be raised up, every mountain and hill made low; the rough ground shall become level, the rugged places a plain. ⁵And the glory of the LORD will be revealed, and all mankind together will see it. For the mouth of the LORD has spoken.”

March

Isaiah 40:11 He tends his flock like a shepherd: He gathers the lambs in his arms and carries them close to his heart; he gently leads those that have young.

April

Isaiah 40:18 To whom, then, will you compare God? What image will you compare him to?

May

Isaiah 40:21 Do you not know? Have you not heard? Has it not been told you from the beginning? Have you not understood since the earth was founded?

June

Isaiah 40:25 “To whom will you compare me? Or who is my equal?” says the Holy One.

July

Isaiah 40:26 Lift your eyes and look to the heavens: Who created all these? He who brings out the starry host one by one, and calls them each by name. Because of his great power and mighty strength, not one of them is missing.

August

Isaiah 40:27 Why do you say, O Jacob, and complain, O Israel, “My way is hidden from the LORD; my cause is disregarded by my God”?

September

Isaiah 40:28 Do you not know? Have you not heard? The LORD is the everlasting God, the Creator of the ends of the earth. He will not grow tired or weary, and his understanding no one can fathom.

October

Isaiah 40:29 He gives strength to the weary and increases the power of the weak.

November

Isaiah 40:30 Even youths grow tired and weary, and young men stumble and fall;

December

Isaiah 40:31 But those who hope in the LORD will renew their strength. They will soar on wings like eagles; they will run and not grow weary, they will walk and not be faint.
